Day 15 Regent Seven Seas Cruises: Skagway

Skagway is a living postcard of frontier Alaska, where clapboard storefronts, boardwalks and historic saloons recreate the energy of the Klondike Gold Rush. It was here that hopeful prospectors set out on the gruelling journey to the Yukon, and echoes of their adventure remain in every street corner. Choose to browse heritage precincts, learn tales of triumph and hardship, or ride the iconic White Pass & Yukon Route Railway — a spectacular ribbon of track carved into mountainsides, glaciers and waterfalls. This is the Alaska of pioneers and dreamers.

Day 16 Regent Seven Seas Cruises: Icy Strait

With pine trees as tall as skyscrapers, waters alive with humpback whales, and bald eagles soaring overhead, this is the very essence of the Alaskan wilderness. Visit the Native Theatre and Heritage Center to watch Tlinglit tribal members bring their history to life through song and dance, followed by a sumptuous meal of classic Alaskan seafood. Take in breathtaking vistas on a gondola ride up Hoonah Mountain, keeping an eye out for Sitka black-tailed deer among towering spruce and western hemlock. Venture deep into the remote Spasski River Valley to a raised observation platform, where you may spot grizzly bears in their natural habitat.

Overnight onboard Seven Seas Explorer

Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

Day 17

Regent Seven Seas Cruises: Cruising Hubbard Glacier

Sail into the icy grandeur of Hubbard Glacier—North America's largest tidewater glacier—where towering blue ice walls stretch for miles and the thunderous roar of calving ice echoes across the water. From expansive Observation Decks or the comfort of your private balcony, enjoy uninterrupted views, wildlife spotting and warm hospitality as your ship glides through majestic fjords. This is the essence of Alaska's wilderness: vast, powerful and utterly unforgettable.
